

Narrative branch

Wake up in cave

index	0
text	You wake up in a dark mysterious cavern with no memory of how you got there and a splitting headache. You notice that you are wearing basic clothing and have backpack lying next to you, looking around you struggle to make out what else is in the room. You notice a breeze running through the cavern and realise that there is a small tunnel leading out of the room.

Go on through the tunnel

index	5
text	As you crawl through the small tunnel you begin to hear the sound of running water, as you emerge you see that you have entered an underground lake with a small stream entering it and on the other side of the lake you can make out two separate exits one is almost flooded the other is high and dry. Also, floating in the middle of the lake is a small bag that appears to be made of waterproof material

Keep Going

index	12
text	As you walk through the last part of the tunnel you begin to hear heavy breathing and as you exit the tunnel and walk around a corner you come across a sleeping bear at least 5 times your size, you carefully make your way around in attempt not to wake it up, as you are nearing the exit to the room you slip and fall to the ground waking the bear. It slowly gets up and looks at you, then it begins to charge.

Exit the room

index	14
text	As you crawl through the exit it opens out into a large open cavern with a river flowing down the middle, this must be what leads into the lake. You take a quick rest and drink some of your water and have snack, (if you don't have one you drink from the river), as you prepare to leave you realise you are not alone as you hear the sound of a creature slithering across the floor and emerging from the direction of the previous room are a horde of snakes slowly stalking their prey. You.

Make yourself appear big

index	15
text	As the bear approaches you begin to scream and shout and stretch your arms out wide in an attempt to increase your apparent size, this causes the bear to pause and become confused. In this moment you choose to begin to wave your arms even more and double your efforts. The bear believing you are too much of a threat retreats. This gives you time to walk slowly backwards towards the exit

Play dead

index	16
text	You slowly drop to the floor in attempt to make the bear believe you are not a threat, as the bear nears it begins to slow down unsure of what to do it paws aggressively at first believing that you may still be a threat, you stay quiet and after a few minutes it loses interest believing you to be dead or no longer a threat. You wait a couple minutes and slowly walk towards the exit leaving battered and bruised but alive.

RUN

index	17
text	You immediately turn and sprint towards the exit, the bear easily catches up with you as it is much faster. It knocks you down to the ground and begins to cut you with its claws it then takes a bite out of your leg. After a few minutes of an unrelenting attack it leaves believing you are dead, you slowly lose consciousness and in a last attempt to survive crawl towards the exit to no avail. You pass away seconds later.  GAME OVER
